Significant ORR Item for DCI Diary

The ORR Panel of Aeronautical Consultants (consisting of some 32 knowledgeable persons in the aircraft industry, the air research and development field, the United States air power program, the Weapons Systems Evaluation Group, the United States Air Force, the Office of Naval Intelligence, and CIA air intelligence personnel) concluded a four-day meeting discussing better ways to evaluate the economic input capabilities and vulnerabilities of the Soviet air power. The full proceedings were recorded, are now being studied, and will prove of value in focussing ORR efforts into the most productive channels.
